Federal Election Commission

999 E Street, NW

Washington, DC 20463

To Whom It May Concern:

Enclosed please find the following:

01. Amended report for the period ending November 23, 1998 which reflect in-kind contributions to Federal Congressional candidates Tom Cottar and Ronald Warren Taber.
02. Amended report for the period ending December 31, 1998.
03. Amended report for the period ending March 31, 2000 which reflect in-kind contributions to Federal Congressional candidates Clint Engler, Bob Pegram and Edmon V. Kaiser.
04. Amended report for the period ending June 30, 2000.
05. Amended report for the period ending September 30, 2000.
06. 12 Day Pre-Election report for the period ending October 18, 2000.
07. Notification of Multicandidate Status (FEC Form 1M).

We are reporting in-kind contributions to these candidates at this time in response to communication with Mr. Bradley Litchfield, Associate General Counsel of the Federal Election Commission. Specifically, our methodology in regards to these contributions was derived from a letter dated May 10, 2000 and received via e-mail on May 19, 2000, which was sent by Mr. Litchfield to Robert Colaco, National Chairman of Citizens For A Better America (TM), which is enclosed with this letter.

The issues discussed in the e-mail have the potential to impact reports going back to the first report filed by Citizens For A Better America (TM) in 1992. After an hour long conversation between Mr. Litchfield and Mr. Colaco when this issue was discussed, Mr. Colaco felt he was still unclear as to what extent we need to amend our reports. Therefore, we are moving toward seeking a formal Advisory Opinion on this matter as well as other related issues.

Our question to the Federal Election Commission is: Based on Mr. Litchfield's letter referenced above, are we required to file a series of amended reports, including our first report filed after becoming a registered nonconnected, independent political committee on October 31, 1992?

Please respond in writing at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Brian Rossling

You apparently sent me a form e-mail reply saying that you will not download the word document I sent you as an official of an agency of the Federal Government because you are concerned that it may have a virus.

Here is the text of what I sent you on May 9.

Here are my views having looked over your flyers. I will be out of the office from this afternoon until Monday, May 15.
Hope you can open this MS Word attachment.

Reviewed your flyers and have come to following conclusions and offer this guidance to you.

1) Flyers with codes CBA97GEN and Sample CA November 1993 have no federal candidate references. So none of the expenses to produce and distribute them need to be allocated to particular Federal candidates as contributions in kind. The expenses should be reported as operating expenditures of CBA since it has only a Federal account.

2) Flyers with other codes need to have some allocable portion of the production and distribution expenses counted (and reported) as contributions in kind to specific Federal candidates. You previously indicated to me that the CBA candidate endorsements were developed in coordination or consultation with the Federal candidates who are endorsed in the flyers; therefore, the expenditures could not qualify as independent expenditures on their behalf.

a) CBA00PCA: page 6 (of 8) represents 1/8 of the entire flyer and identifies 3 Federal candidates whose election is endorsed and advocated. Two non-federal candidates are also mentioned with equal prominence and space. A CA ballot prop is also cited and advocated. Therefore, the benefit that would be attributed to each Federal candidate would be 20% x 1/8 of the production and distribution costs for this flyer. That would be the amount of the in kind contribution to each of the 3 Federal candidates who are advocated and endorsed. To illustrate the calculation: If CBA paid $2400 to produce and distribute this flyer, then $60 [20% of $300, which = 1/8 of $2400] would be the contribution in kind to each Federal candidate. This would be a total of $180 in Federal candidate contributions. The remaining $120 would represent the value of the endorsements for the 2 non-federal candidates, for a total of $300 for one page of the eight page flyer that cost $2400. The ballot initiative reference does not affect the allocation.

b) CBA96SP1: page 6 (of 8 page flyer) is devoted entirely to Congressional candidate Bordonaro in the 22nd CD of CA. Thus, 1/8 of total production and distribution expenses for this flyer would CBA's contribution in kind to him.

c) CBA96GEN: pages 5 and 6 [of 8 page flyer] is devoted to Congressional candidates and non-federal candidates who are on CBA's GOOD GUYS list as endorsees for the Nov 1996 general election and who were seeking election to either the US Senate or US House of Representatives from 23 States. Their names are listed in two lines each and non-federal candidates are included within the same list. Given the large number of Federal and other candidates who are named and also the small amount of space taken by each name (whether Federal or other candidate), I think the benefit to be derived by each named Federal candidate is negligible or minimal. Therefore, I don't believe a contribution in kind needs to be determined for each Federal candidate. CBA may treat all of its production and distribution costs for this flyer as operating expenditures, not allocable as reportable in kind contributions to any specific Federal candidate.

d) No code is cited for the Nov 92 flyer and it is divided into 8 panels on a total of four pages that are each 10 1/4 by 17 inches. The list of CBA endorsed candidates ?GOOD GUYS? covers only California candidates, both Congressional and CA State legislature. A separate list titled ?KICK OUT THE BUMS? - INCUMBENT LIST is also split between Congressional and State legislature incumbent officeholders in CA. Each list has only one line of text giving the name and seat designation of each candidate or officeholder. For the same reasons discussed in [c] above, but with one exception, CBA does not need to calculate an in kind contribution to the Congressional candidates listed on its endorsees list or to the opponents of its ?Kick out? Congressional incumbent list. The exception pertains to the flyer's treatment of the CA US Senate race. Rep. Barbara Boxer is expressly derogated as a US Senate candidate and as an incumbent Member of the US House; her Senate election opponent, Herschenson is favored with many affirmative and laudatory references to his policy positions in the context of his Senate campaign. These references (coupled with the express advocacy opposing Ms. Boxer, his major opponent in the Senate race) represent election influencing support for him and this coverage extends to approximately 1/8 of the Nov 92 flyer. Therefore, 1/8 of the production and distribution costs for this flyer should be allocated (and reported) as an in kind contribution from CBA to the Herschenson US Senate campaign in 1992.

e) CBA96PRI: Four of the 8 pages (or 8 panels) of this flyer focus on the presidential primary in 1996 and endorse Patrick Buchanan, urging the reader to vote for him by name. It also includes extensive column inches that compare Buchanan in very favorable terms to his primary election opponents: Steve Forbes, Alan Keyes, Lamar Alexander, Phil Gramm, and Bob Dole. There is also derogatory content that attacks President Bill Clinton as a candidate for re-election in November. The endorsement and advocacy of Buchanan together with the derogation of his primary election opponents (and his potential opponent in November) means that 1/4 of the production and distribution costs for this flyer should be allocated and reported as an in kind contribution to Buchanan for the 1996 presidential campaign.

f) CBA96RNC: 8 page flyer apparently distributed after August 11, 1996 and just before the RNC convention. Middle 4 panels are name listings of individuals who had endorsed Buchanan in the 1996 Republican presidential primary. Content of articles calls for RNC convention to retain a pro-life position in the RNC platform, give speech opportunity to Buchanan and to build unity for Nov general election campaign. Given the timing and content of this flyer, its costs do not need to be allocated as contribution in kind to any Federal candidate. They would be only operating expenditures of CBA.

g) Press release dated Feb 4, 2000 mentions endorsement of two candidates, one a Congressional candidate in 17th CD of CA, March ? primary election. To extent this press release was only distributed to bona fide news media organizations, the production and distribution costs would not be contributions in kind to the Congressional candidate. To extent the release was prepared for and sent to other recipients, ½ of the costs attributable to the preparation and distribution to those persons would be a contribution in kind to Engler, the Congressional candidate who is endorsed in the press release.
